

Warrior CHECK-IN KIOSKS for

Requirement Identified

The Port of Tyne International Passenger Terminal at North Shields handles cruise calls and a regular ferry service to North West Europe and Scandinavia.

As part of a development project, Port of Tyne were looking to upgrade facilities at the terminal and identified a requirement for two new check-in kiosks.

Solution

Port of Tyne had used Glasdon 'Olympic' kiosks on site for many years and had been very pleased with their quality and longevity. As a result, Kevin Emmett, Head of Major Projects, was keen to contact Glasdon to discuss the options available for the two new kiosks. After a site visit by Glasdon's Area Sales Manager, it was decided that the 'Warrior' system would provide the ideal solution.

Resulting Benefits

The Warrior kiosks have proved to be the perfect choice for Port of Tyne with many added benefits:

- Stylish appearance with minimal routine maintenance and a long life span.
- Attractive, comfortable working environment for staff, with custom designed worktops, multi-opening windows and integrated speech loop system.
- Full width glazing affording excellent visibility.
- Kiosks are fitted with scrolling LED signage, controlled via a PC in the kiosk.
- Delivered to site in fully assembled form to minimise disruption during installation.
- Kiosks can be relocated should site circumstances change in the future.

What the customer says...

“The new Warrior kiosks are a great success, providing an attractive focal point for our customers and the ideal working environment for our staff.

Glasdon offered an efficient and knowledgeable service right from the design stage through to installation of the kiosks. We would not hesitate to contact them for other requirements in the future.”
